Now Therefore Be It Resolved that, on behalf of the constituents of the Eighteenth Congressional District of Texas, I, in great humility offer condolences to the family of Tonya Chissell Williams and those she leaves in God's hands. Tonya was a true servant for the people of this city, state, and nation. Tonya's work on earth is finished, and is deserving of the commendation and admiration of the United States Congress. As the Master says in Matthew 25:21, “Well done, thou good and faithful servant.”

HONORING JEREMIAH WILLIAMS

HON. BENNIE G. THOMPSON

OF MISSISSIPPI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, December 6, 2018

Mr. THOMPSON of Mississippi. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor a remarkable student, the late Mr. Jeremiah Williams.

Jeremiah Williams was born on January 21, 2002 in Greenville, Mississippi to Lashona Williams and Timothy Hawkins. Sr. Jeremiah was the sixth of eight children. Jeremiah's earthly journey ended on November 9, 2018.

Jeremiah was known to family and friends as “Dugga Wugga” or “Dugg”. He was very passionate about sports.

I gladly pay tribute to the memory of Jeremiah, and although it was short, I commend the exemplary life he lived. It was his young life that walked by, leaving his footprints in our hearts forever.

Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in recognizing the life and accomplishments of the late Mr. Jeremiah Williams for his dedication to serving others and giving back to the community.

HONORING THE LIFE OF JOHN J. RUSSELL

HON. JOSH GOTTHEIMER

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, December 6, 2018

Mr. GOTTHEIMER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the memory of John J. Russell of West Roxbury, Massachusetts, who was the loving and devoted father of Tricia Russell, my exceptional and incomparable Chief of Staff.

Originally born in County Cork to parents James and Norah, John was a proud son of Ireland through and through. Like many generations of Irish who came to this country before him, he and his loving wife Joanne raised their family in Boston—proudly preserving and celebrating their heritage, faith, and traditions. John was blessed with the gift of the gab and was known for his ability to make friends or engage complete strangers anywhere. For this and the other gifts he was blessed with, including his family, he was thankful—showing a devotion to his faith and his fellow parishioners.

While I did not know John personally, I feel as though I have come to know his many exemplary qualities and his character through his daughter, who embodies his values day-in and day-out: selflessness and dedication, resilience, and an unwavering commitment to doing right by others, no matter what.

John's devotion and adoration may not have always been spoken, but his actions and unadulterated love for his family were loud and clear. John undoubtedly was proud of Tricia and loved her dearly, helping her grow into the strong woman she is today. He was the rock on which the family was built and his spirit will continue to live on through Tricia and Joanne.

Mr. Speaker, there is a beautiful old Irish saying for mourning a loved-one: “Ar dheis Dé go raibh a h'anam,” meaning “May his soul be on the right side of God.” For us, there is no question: John's love for his family, his love for his home, and his faith have secured for him a new life in God's embrace. I ask my colleagues to join me in celebrating the life of John J. Russell and his extraordinary legacy.

HONORING CHASEN BULLOCK

HON. LUKE MESSER

OF INDIANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, December 6, 2018

Mr. MESSER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to recognize a former member of my staff, Chasen Bullock, for his work in my office and his service to our state.

Chasen worked in my Indiana office for nearly a year, serving as the head of our political operations. Chasen is a rock star and was a tremendous leader and asset to our team. He brought a wealth of experience and knowledge and was someone who became a trusted adviser, but more importantly, a great friend.

On a personal note, Chasen is one of the rarest beasts you can find in Washington—a talented leader with humility and integrity. I wish Chasen continued success in all that God has planned for him and his family. I have no doubt Chasen's biggest impact on our nation are yet to come. I look forward to cheering Chasen on in those efforts.

RECOGNITION OF SARAH BLOCHER

HON. EDWARD R. ROYCE

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, December 6, 2018

Mr. ROYCE of California. Mr. Speaker, I rise to express my gratitude to Sarah Blocher, a valued member of my Foreign Affairs Committee staff. Sarah is a dedicated public servant, committed to advancing the interests of the American people abroad. Her work has stemmed from her belief that strong, positive relations with our allies in Europe also strengthen our country.

I have come to value Sarah's insights into the challenges and opportunities in our transatlantic relationships, as well as her advocacy
